New Westminster is on the unceded and unsundered land of the Halq'eméylem-speaking peoples. It is acknowledged by the city that colonialism has made their histories and connections to the land invisible. We are learning and building relationships with the people whose lands we are on.

ORGANIZATIONAL PROFILE

As a central hub in the Metro Vancouver area, the City of New Westminster delivers a broad spectrum of urban services to over 85,000 residents. New Westminster is a city rich in history with a viable and thriving economy, has a population representative of the diversity of the region, and is staffed by talented and dedicated employees who work together to achieve its strategic vision. The City of New Westminster has earned a proud reputation for civic leadership, service delivery, and outstanding employee relations.

The Climate Action, Planning and Development Department is responsible for advising Council on the orderly, efficient and aesthetic use of land in New Westminster as well as the physical, social and economic development of the City. This includes urban and regional planning and policy, housing planning and policy, urban design, processing of rezoning applications, social planning, overseeing the heritage program, building and development permitting, emergent strategic social and community issues, and bylaw enforcement.

ABOUT THE ROLE

As an integral member of the City's Senior Management Team (SMT), the Director, Climate Action, Planning and Development (CAPD) reports directly to the Chief Administrative Officer and leads a team of dedicated and highly skilled professionals. The Director provides support and direction to a broad range of departmental and City initiatives. The Director plans, coordinates and directs corporate strategy and policy for housing, social and community issues, and programs and services relating to development and building permits and building inspection. The Director develops valuable and inclusive strategic relationships with key internal and external partners across the City, community, and sector.

This an exciting opportunity for a values-driven planning and development professional with more than ten (10) years of progressive and related leadership experience within a municipal or regional government setting. The preferred candidate will have demonstrated knowledge of the concepts, practices and techniques of community land use, social planning, climate action, and building and bylaws. The successful candidate will bring a collaborative, progressive and innovative approach to problem-solving and an ability to form partnerships with key internal and external partners to define and implement projects

The salary range for the position is $179,994 to $198,445 annually over a 37.5-hour work week supplemented by a competitive total compensation plan. The position is eligible for vacation time supplemented by a compressed day off program and secondary leave.
