At the City of Welland, we're continuously rewriting our story. Not because we don't know where we're going, but because we are constantly reaching for new heights, engaging in new approaches, and pursuing what many believe to be unattainable or too ambitious. We're not satisfied with the status quo, and we're certainly not satisfied with doing things a certain way simply because that's how they were done in the past.

We expect our population to increase to over 80,000 in the next 20 years, and serving a diverse, growing community requires strategic thinkers, norm breakers, and passionate civil servants. In Niagara, Welland's growth leads every other municipality, and the City is becoming the region's heartbeat.

So, we invite you to author your chapter and contribute to the overall body of work the City of Welland is creating. At the City of Welland, your ideas are nurtured, your input is invited, a healthy work–life balance is available, and most importantly, your voice will make a difference.

Under the direction of the Chief Human Resources Officer, the Workplace Health, Safety, and Wellness Advisor is responsible for designing the Corporate health and safety management strategy and framework for the Occupational Health and Safety Management System. The HSW Advisor influences senior managers and employees to build relationships as a basis for influence, mentoring, and providing integrated technical and strategic advice on health and safety matters. This position provides a fundamental partnership and service to the Corporation and works closely with the Human Resources department and other departments to integrate health, safety, and wellness into core business practices.
