IT Services Manager

Join the City of Kelowna as our next IT Services Manager and play a pivotal role in shaping a modern, reliable, and people-centred technology environment. In this leadership role, you will lead the City's service desk and IT services functions, ensure high-quality, responsive support while driving continuous improvement in systems, data, and user adoption of new technologies.

You will guide and inspire a skilled team responsible for the technologies our organization relies on every day including business applications, operating systems, desktop and mobile technologies, networks, VOIP, and endpoint security. With a strong focus on service excellence, you will strengthen IT Service Management (ITSM) practices, improve user training and technology adoption, and ensure new solutions are operationalized successfully across the organization.

Working closely with the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Manager, you will help safeguard the City's technology and data, embedding security and resilience into service delivery. As a member of the IT leadership team, you will contribute to strategic planning, influence enterprise-wide decisions, and champion innovation that enables the City to operate efficiently today while preparing confidently for the future.

Qualifications

- A related post-secondary degree combined with a minimum of 10 years of experience in information technology, including demonstrated people and service management experience.
- Strong knowledge of IT Service Management (ITSM), enterprise applications, operating systems, networks, and end-user computing environments.
- Experience supporting technology projects through sustainment, change management, and user training to ensure long-term value realization.
- A customer-focused mindset with excellent analytical, problem-solving, and communication skills, including the ability to translate business needs into practical technology solutions.
- Proven ability to adapt to evolving technologies, manage competing priorities, and thrive in a fast-paced, collaborative environment.
